Nancy Wynne Talks of the Newport Horse Show—She Sees Several Smart Suits—Plans for Supper and Dance at Whitford in a Fortnight

NEWPORT is the place, for a few days anyhow now, for the horse show. It opened yesterday, and even though the "glooms" do insist that it is no longer a gala event, it really is pretty gay and there were some mighty pretty frocks to be seen. For that's what the horse show means both in Newport and in Southampton and here and everywhere else. There are horse lovers, of course, and there are many who love to watch the events, but it's the smart frocks and the good-looking women and the music that the most eyes are turned upon at these affairs. Of course, it is not a horse show where there is every kind of side-show that was ever invented, besides the horse show itself, some persons do not think so much about the clothes they wear, but the clothes are what are thought of by the onlooker, believe me. Among the Philadelphians and the general-Philadelphians who were at the show yesterday were Miss Julia Herndon, Mrs. Margaret Dunlap, Mrs. John H. Drexel and numerous others. New York now, but are former Philadelphians. Mrs. Dison has been in England for some time, but recently returned to this side.

Quite a number of women are in town, whether to put names on the "gossamer" lists or not, is hard to say. I'm sure Marie Stewart is not here for that purpose, unless she is putting her mother's name on the list. She is certainly not twenty-one by several years' length. Anyway she was in town a few days and I happened to see her. She was wearing a suit of blue and white, which was very becoming to her and her simple dress was also in brown. The coat was very long waisted and she looked extremely well.

Have you heard about the big dollops the women way out on the Main Line are getting up? They are going to have a supper and dance on the turnpike out at Whitford, the evening of September 18. And for a very fine reason, to raise funds to maintain a community road for Whitford and the country round about there.
